Sarantis Group and its employees stand by the people affected by the devastating floods in Thessaly

Sarantis Group, once again, demonstrates that it stands by those who are truly in need and consistently responds to urgent needs. From the very beginning, the Group demonstrated its solidarity and care by providing support to the families and citizens affected by the devastating floods in Thessaly. This was accomplished through donations of essential items, which were distributed to Humanity Greece, with the aim of further assisting those affected.

In this endeavor, the contribution of the Group's people was particularly significant. They responded promptly and with a strong sense of contribution, collecting essential items for immediate dispatch to Humanity Greece, the volunteer organization that gives voice to those cannot be heard. From the very beginning, volunteers from Humanity Greece initiated the largest chain of solidarity in the country. Day after day, they travel to every village, aiding in the coordination and organization of both goods and their distribution to the people in need.

Solidarity towards our fellow citizens has always been at the core of Sarantis Group values, driving the Group to act decisively and with dedication in every relief campaign, thereby contributing to the alleviation of those affected.
