

Sarantis Group supported with product donations within the COVID-19 pandemic period at Czech Republic

As COVID-19 pandemic is escalating, Sarantis Group stays true to our commitment to offer back to the society through its loved and trusted brands across its region.

During this unprecedented period the Group supports further the enormous efforts made to address the spread of the coronavirus through multiple ways. This time at Czech Republic and Slovakia product donations were mobilized, aiming to provide the doctors and hospitals in the front line with the essentials.

Specifically, more than 23,000 packshots of Indulona Hand Creams were distributed at 28 hospitals and nursing homes in the Czech Republic and Slovakia. It was an expressed action of gratitude for their care, patience and help during this crisis. Moreover, Sarantis Group cooperated with the project „Energy to doctors “ at Czech Republic by donating 7,000 hand creams of Indulona.

Sarantis Group is committed to play its role towards addressing the global health crisis and positively respond to this collective call. Offering in these uncertain times and acting collectively with other companies is the Group’s duty.
